3. SHORT INTRODUCTION TO THE CD-ROM CODICES:

Besides the infobase (corresponding to appreciatively 50 000 text pages) the CD-ROM contains the program needed to view the database, which is called Folio Views. Folio Views will enable you to perform any search in the database.

Folio Views contains the data's one after the other, as is it were a long roll of 50000 text pages that constitute the data's of CODICES today.

Know this: if you use the lift scroll on the left of your screen in order to move within the database or to do any search, you might easily get lost. The texts, indeed, are in line in an order, which cannot correspond to your search. Therefore, use the lift scroll only for moving within a definite frame.

THE WELCOME SCREEN OF CODICES

The screen as below is divided in two parts (click on Browse), the left side presents the contents, and you can expand it by clicking on $\stackrel{\bullet}{\rightarrow}$.
